National Foreword

I.S. EN 228:2012+A1:2017 is the adopted Irish version of the European Document EN 228:2012+A1:2017, Automotive fuels - Unleaded petrol - Requirements and test methods

I.S EN 228:2012+A1:2017 requires that each country implementing this standard establishes national annexes detailing requirements for "sampling", "pump marking", "unleaded regular grade petrol" and "volatility classes".

I.S EN 228:2012+A1:2017 specifies new requirements for pump marking to address metallic additives and unleaded petrol containing high and low oxygenates. Additionally, the standard now allows Member States to continue to place on the market unleaded regular grade petrol but requirements must be specified in a National Annex.

To address all of the new and existing requirements introduced by I.S EN 228:2012+A1:2017, revised National Annexes will need to be drafted. These revised National Annexes will need to go for public consultation and approval prior to their publication.

Once approved for publication, the revised National Annexes will become available for use with I.S EN 228:2012+A1:2017.

For the moment, the National Annexes for a previous version are available on request.

This document does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users are responsible for its correct application.
