Keeping Standards up-to-date

Standards are living documents which reflect progress in science, technology and systems. To maintain their currency, all Standards are periodically reviewed, and new editions are published. Between editions, amendments may be issued. Standards may also be withdrawn. It is important that readers assure themselves they are using a current Standard, which should include any amendments which may have been published since the Standard was purchased.

Detailed information about Standards can be found by visiting the Standards Australia web site at www.standards.com.au and looking up the relevant Standard in the on-line catalogue.

Alternatively, the printed Catalogue provides information current at 1 January each year, and the monthly magazine, The Global Standard, has a full listing of revisions and amendments published each month.

We also welcome suggestions for improvement in our Standards, and especially encourage readers to notify us immediately of any apparent inaccuracies or ambiguities. Contact us via email at mail@standards.com.au, or write to the Chief Executive, Standards Australia International Ltd, GPO Box 5420, Sydney, NSW 2001.

This Standard was issued in draft form for comment as DR 02384.

PREFACE

This Standard was prepared by the Standards Australia Committee WS-024, Meters for Cold Drinking Water, to supersede AS 3565.1—1998.

The objective of this Standard is to provide manufacturers with requirements for volumetric chamber and turbine meters, which may be fitted with an electronic output device (EOD) to measure cold drinking water.

It should be noted that National Standards Commission, Standard NSC R 49 Part 1 specifies the metrological and technical requirements for pattern approval and verification of water meters to comply with the National Measurement Regulations.

This Standard has been revised to include essential requirements to maintain progress with technology in the water meter industry.

The terms ‘normative’ and ‘informative’ have been used in this Standard to define the application of the appendix to which they apply. A ‘normative’ appendix is an integral part of a Standard, whereas an ‘informative’ appendix is only for information and guidance.
