Keeping Standards up-to-date

Standards are living documents which reflect progress in science, technology and systems. To maintain their currency, all Standards are periodically reviewed, and new editions are published. Between editions, amendments may be issued. Standards may also be withdrawn. It is important that readers assure themselves they are using a current Standard, which should include any amendments which may have been published since the Standard was purchased.

Detailed information about joint Australian/New Zealand Standards can be found by visiting the Standards Web Shop at www.standards.com.au or Standards New Zealand web site at www.standards.co.nz and looking up the relevant Standard in the on-line catalogue.

Alternatively, both organizations publish an annual printed Catalogue with full details of all current Standards. For more frequent listings or notification of revisions, amendments and withdrawals, Standards Australia and Standards New Zealand offer a number of update options. For information about these services, users should contact their respective national Standards organization.

We also welcome suggestions for improvement in our Standards, and especially encourage readers to notify us immediately of any apparent inaccuracies or ambiguities. Please address your comments to the Chief Executive of either Standards Australia or Standards New Zealand at the address shown on the back cover.

This Standard was issued in draft form for comment as DR 04328.

PREFACE

This Standard was prepared by the Joint Standards Australia/Standards New Zealand Committee SF-017, Occupational Diving.

This Standard is Part of a series of Standards for the conduct of occupational diving operations. Diving operations that fall into the scope of this sector-specific Standard may be conducted using either this Standard or AS/NZS 2299.1, Occupational diving operations, Part 1: Standard operational practice.

This Standard is based on a February 1998 draft prepared by the Underwater Visual Producers Association of Australia. Earlier versions of the draft were prepared with input from various State and Australian film, media and arts organizations.

The term 'informative' has been used in this Standard to define the application of the appendices to which it applies. An 'informative' appendix is only for information and guidance.
