Review of Australian Standards. To keep abreast of progress in industry, Australian Standards are subject to periodic review and are kept up to date by the issue of amendments or new editions as necessary. It is important therefore that Standards users ensure that they are in possession of the latest edition, and any amendments thereto.

Full details of all Australian Standards and related publications will be found in the Standards Australia Catalogue of Publications; this information is supplemented each month by the magazine 'The Australian Standard', which subscribing members receive, and which gives details of new publications, new editions and amendments, and of withdrawn Standards.

Suggestions for improvements to Australian Standards, addressed to the head office of Standards Australia, are welcomed. Notification of any inaccuracy or ambiguity found in an Australian Standard should be made without delay in order that the matter may be investigated and appropriate action taken.

This Standard was issued in draft form for comment as DR 96253.

PREFACE

This Standard was prepared by the Standards Australian Committee MS/12 on Road Signs and Traffic Signals to supersede AS 1742.5—1986. It is one in a series of fourteen standards which together form the Manual of uniform traffic control devices. The series comprises the following Standards:

AS

1742	Manual of uniform traffic control devices
1742.1	General introduction and index of signs
1742.2	Traffic control devices for general use
1742.3	Traffic control devices for works on roads
1742.4	Speed controls
1742.5	Street name and community facility name signs (this Standard)
1742.6	Service and tourist signs for motorists
1742.7	Railway crossings
1742.8	Freeways
1742.9	Bicycle facilities
1742.10	Pedestrian control and protection
1742.11	Parking controls
1742.12	Bus, transit and truck lanes
1742.13	Local area traffic management
1742.14	Traffic signals

Principal variations from the 1986 edition are as follows:

- (a) Expanded requirements and recommendations in respect of—
 - (i) use of logos and other peripheral detail on street name signs;
 - (ii) use of supplementary plates with street name signs;
 - (iii) street name signs for roundabouts, deceleration lanes and outer separator openings on streets with service roads; and
 - (iv) colour combinations to be used on street name signs.
- (b) Provision of oversize street name signs on high-speed roads.
- (c) Provision of advance street name signs.
- (d) Addition of guidelines for the naming of roads and streets.

The term ‘informative’ has been used in this Standard to define the application of the appendix to which it applies. An ‘informative’ appendix is only for information and guidance.

Users of Standards are reminded that copyright subsists in all Standards Australia publications and software. Except where the Copyright Act allows and except where provided for below no publications or software produced by Standards Australia may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system in any form or transmitted by any means without prior permission in writing from Standards Australia. Permission may be conditional on an appropriate royalty payment. Requests for permission and information on commercial software royalties should be directed to the head office of Standards Australia.

Standards Australia will permit up to 10 percent of the technical content pages of a Standard to be copied for use exclusively in-house by purchasers of the Standard without payment of a royalty or advice to Standards Australia.

Standards Australia will also permit the inclusion of its copyright material in computer software programs for no royalty payment provided such programs are used exclusively in-house by the creators of the programs.

Care should be taken to ensure that material used is from the current edition of the Standard and that it is updated whenever the Standard is amended or revised. The number and date of the Standard should therefore be clearly identified.

The use of material in print form or in computer software programs to be used commercially, with or without payment, or in commercial contracts is subject to the payment of a royalty. This policy may be varied by Standards Australia at any time.
