Review of Australian Standards. To keep abreast of progress in industry, Australian Standards are subject to periodic review and are kept up to date by the issue of amendments or new editions as necessary. It is important therefore that Standards users ensure that they are in possession of the latest edition, and any amendments thereto.

Full details of all Australian Standards and related publications will be found in the Standards Australia Catalogue of Publications; this information is supplemented each month by the magazine 'The Australian Standard', which subscribing members receive, and which gives details of new publications, new editions and amendments, and of withdrawn Standards.

Suggestions for improvements to Australian Standards, addressed to the head office of Standards Australia, are welcomed. Notification of any inaccuracy or ambiguity found in an Australian Standard should be made without delay in order that the matter may be investigated and appropriate action taken.

PREFACE

This Standard was prepared by the Standards Australia Committee on Road Signs and Traffic Signals. It is one in a series of fourteen Standards which together form the Manual of uniform traffic control devices. The series comprises the following Standards:

AS

- 1742 Manual of uniform traffic control devices
- 1742.1 Part 1: General introduction and index of signs
- 1742.2 Part 2: Traffic control devices for general use
- 1742.3 Part 3: Traffic control devices for works on roads
- 1742.4 Part 4: Speed controls
- 1742.5 Part 5: Street name and community facility name signs
- 1742.6 Part 6: Service and tourist signs for motorists
- 1742.7 Part 7: Railway crossings
- 1742.8 Part 8: Freeways
- 1742.9 Part 9: Bicycle facilities
- 1742.10 Part 10: Pedestrian control and protection
- 1742.11 Part 11: Parking controls
- 1742.12 Part 12: Bus, transit and truck lanes
- 1742.13 Part 13: Local area traffic management
- 1742.14 Part 14: Traffic signals

This Standard was prepared in response to a perceived need to separate important basic requirements relating to the display of traffic signals from existing parts of the Standard, and it now includes all details specifically relating to traffic signals currently published in AS 1742.2, together with several additional matters concerning the display and positioning of signals. All duplicated material will be omitted from the next edition of AS 1742.2.

The term 'informative' has been used in this Standard to define the application of the appendix to which it applies. An 'informative' appendix is only for information and guidance.

Users of Standards are reminded that copyright subsists in all Standards Australia publications and software. Except where the Copyright Act allows and except where provided for below no publications or software produced by Standards Australia may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system in any form or transmitted by any means without prior permission in writing from Standards Australia. Permission may be conditional on an appropriate royalty payment. Requests for permission and information on commercial software royalties should be directed to the head office of Standards Australia.

Standards Australia will permit up to 10 percent of the technical content pages of a Standard to be copied for use exclusively in-house by purchasers of the Standard without payment of a royalty or advice to Standards Australia.

Standards Australia will also permit the inclusion of its copyright material in computer software programs for no royalty payment provided such programs are used exclusively in-house by the creators of the programs.

Care should be taken to ensure that material used is from the current edition of the Standard and that it is updated whenever the Standard is amended or revised. The number and date of the Standard should therefore be clearly identified.

The use of material in print form or in computer software programs to be used commercially, with or without payment, or in commercial contracts is subject to the payment of a royalty. This policy may be varied by Standards Australia at any time.
