EN 13876:2002 (E)

Introduction

This Code of Practice is designed to assist customers, carriers and freight arrangers to identify a best operating practice capable of operation in conjunction with existing customs of trade and commerce, to minimise errors and to reduce claims of loss, and/or damage to cargo. Its adoption is not intended to impinge upon, or negatively affect the various and varied existing National and International contracts terms that presently apply in the industry.

In constructing the Code of Practice cognisance was taken of the work that is presently being undertaken by International Bodies in the development of Intermodal and Multimodal Transport operation and liability regimes, in an attempt to rationalise domestic and international freight movement.
